BARTLEY, W. Va., Jan. 12—Foreboding an eventual death toll of 91 soft coal workers, an "all hope abandoned" message was flashed to the surface today from rescue gangs who had striven to free their comrades trapped by an unexpected explosion in the No. 1 mine of the Pond Creek Poca-hontas Coal company. The message apparently indicated that the rescue workers had reached the two subterranean sections where the fate of 74 missing men previously had been undetermined.

BARTLEY, W. Va., Jan. 12—Weary rescue workers dug their way into one section of the explosion-wrecked Bartley No. 1 mine today to find 13 additional bodies—boosting the known death toll to 17—and continued toiling ceaselessly to reach others of the remaining 74 trapped on the slim chance that life may still linger in some.

Evidence of violence in the chamber where the 13 bodies were found virtually blasted hopes that any of the remaining 74, trapped in their darkened cell since Wednesday by an explosion of undetermined origin, are still alive. Mine officials feel that none could have survived unless they succeeded in putting up brattices to prevent additional falls of slate and debris.

No supporting brattices were visible in the death cell penetrated this morning by rescuers who have been working in four shifts since the blast occurred in this.

Morale Builder

GENERAL L. Z. Mekhlis, Soviet Russia's highest political army commissar, is reported en route to the front in Finland where he will attempt to build up the morale of the Russian troops. Moscow, it is said, has decided that six weeks of almost constant defeat at the hands of Finland's tiny army has seriously affected the spirit of the Red troops.

Governor Lets Former Convict Stay in State

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12—The exemplary conduct of a fugitive over a 26-year period today prompted Gov. John W. Bricker to deny a request to extradite Carlton B. Chilton, Cleveland "Jean Valjean," to Oklahoma to expiate a crime he committed in 1913.

In a letter to Gov. Leon C. Phillips, of Oklahoma, Bricker pointed out that Chilton had won the privilege of remaining in Ohio because he had "clearly shown his own rehabilitation and a positive disposition to live as a peaceful, industrious and law-abiding citizen."

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12—As Governor Bricker prepared today to rule on an Oklahoma request for the extradition of Carlton B. Chilton, Cleveland's "Jean Valjean," sources close to the chief executive intimated he probably would not force the fugitive to return to the western reformatory from which he escaped 26 years ago.

Owen J. Watts, assistant Oklahoma attorney general, and Warden Fred Hunt of the reformatory told Governor Bricker's executive secretary, Harry Miller, that the western state desired the return of the former convict to "prevent the honor system at the reformatory from collapsing."

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Jan. 12—New Jersey's delegation to the Republican national convention was pledged today to Thomas E. Dewey—the first state delegation to line up openly for the New York district attorney in his campaign for the presidential nomination.

The pledge of the 22 delegates came out of a session of Republican leaders at the home of Joseph A. Bower in Montclair.

Present were former Governor Harold G. Hoffman, head of one faction of the party, and Arthur T. Vanderbilt, a Dewey adviser and who heads the faction opposed to Hoffman's party wing.

SEVERAL DIE AS REVOLT STRIKES IN S. AMERICA

GUAYAQUIL, Jan. 12—Units of the Ecuadorian air force launched a revolt against the government today to express dissatisfaction with election of Alberto Arroyo Del Rio as president.

Several persons were reported killed and many wounded in resultant street fighting.

The airman had backed the candidacy of Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra.

Labor unions called a general strike for noon today in protest against the election of Del Rio. Latest incomplete returns gave him a clear majority.

SWEDES TO GIVE DAY'S MILK, EGG PRODUCTION TO FINNISH NEIGHBORS

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 12—Every Swedish hen will lay one egg for Finland, and every Swedish cow will give a day's milk.

Sweden's farmers today decided that a day's egg and milk production will be donated to the Finnish cause.

ATHENS COUNTY NEEDY ORDERED TO REREGISTER

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12—Intimating that relief clients in Athens County were "chiseling," State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood today announced he would demand that all persons receiving aid re-register and sign a sworn statement that they actually are in need.

Although Sherwood refused to charge openly that persons in the mining section were obtaining aid whether they needed it or not, he hinted strongly that such was the case.

"I'm not going to stop relief down there, but they're not going to continue to administer it in a haphazard fashion," Sherwood declared. "If they don't straighten up, we will."

RELIEF UNIT IN DANGER

Attempt Made To Cut Off
Communications And Encircle Attackers

HELSINKI, Jan. 12—Complete annihilation of 120,000 Soviet troops, including some of the crack detachments of the Red army, was predicted by Finnish military observers today.

Two divisions totaling 40,000 men have already been wiped out.

A third army of 20,000 is surrounded and facing extinction in the Salla sector.

A fourth division, being rushed to the rescue of this group, faces extermination when it walks into the Finnish trap.

In the southern section north of Lake Ladoga, two more divisions of 20,000 men each have been hurled back and trapped by the Finns, and their early defeat is predicted.

Soviet attacks at Pitkaeranta and Sortavala in the Lake Ladoga district have been repulsed, with the result that efforts to relieve the division trapped at Suojarvi have terminated thus far in failure.

The detachment attempting to relieve the Salla group attacked at Joutsjarvi, 30 miles west of Salla. Observers reported to Helsinki that the relief column consisted of trained troops and artillery, far better equipped than most Russians operating in Finland.

Rail Line Menaced

The Finnish high command ordered an offensive in the direction of the railway line at Kemijarvi to cut Russian communications and encircle the invading forces. Latest reports from Salla said that the 20,000 Red army troops operating there during the last few weeks had been definitely trapped after a long and hard fight in which two Finnish columns closed in slowly.

Their annihilation will start at once, and will be completed before a similar division, sent on a rescue mission, can arrive.

In a former case in the same area, rescue reinforcements themselves were drawn into the Finnish net and wiped out, and it was believed.

STALIN PURGES PUBLISHER FOR ADVISING WAR

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 12—Infuriated by the abrupt failure of the Soviet military campaign in Finland, Josef Stalin has widened his purge to include industrial and diplomatic as well as army leaders and many important personages have already been "liquidated," it was reported in Copenhagen today.

Among the dictator's wrath were A. A. Zhdanov, director of the Soviet press and publisher of the official Communist party newspaper Pravda, who was said to have advised Stalin to invade Finland and predicted a "walkover" victory like that scored by the Russian army in Poland.

Others were said to have been General Meretsov, former military commander of the Leningrad district who led the first Russian troops into Finland, and V. K. Dereviansky, Soviet minister to Helsinki.

BRITISH MAINTAIN HOPE NAZIS WILL SEEK SEA BATTLE

LONDON, Jan. 12—Stung by a series of smashing naval defeats, Chancellor Hitler was reported in neutral diplomatic quarters in London today to be preparing an attempted major retaliatory stroke against Great Britain of which the aerial activity of the last 72 hours may have been the feeling-out processes.

The British high command is confident, however, that it can more than cope with any surprise that the German Fuehrer may spring on sea, air or land.

BRITAIN ORDERS 144 WARPLANES

New York Firm Contracts To Furnish Craft At $8,640,000 Cost

NEW YORK, Jan. 12—As part of the 12,000 planes the British and French are expected to purchase in this country within the next two years, the British air ministry has ordered 144 fighting planes costing $60,000 each from the Brewster Aircraft Corp., of New York. It was reported today.

The craft were described as low winged monoplanes with a speed of about 300 miles an hour. They are single seaters with four machine guns two mounted to fire through the propellers and two off the wings. The 144 planes will cost $8,640,000.

The British and French are envisaging a long drawn out war and are arranging to purchase 12,000 American planes, it was reported in New York. With this in view, they are making surveys of the capacities of American aircraft factories and in some instances arranging to underwrite expansion costs, it was stated.

WHETHER QUINS WILL VISIT NEW YORK IN DOUBT

NEW YORK, Jan. 12—The Dionne quintuplets are coming to the New York World's Fair, Mayor F. H. LaGuardia proudly announced today.

The mayor said he had been assured by Harvey D. Gibson, fair chairman, that plans to place the five famous girls on exhibition had been completed.

But contradictory reports came from Canada in denials by Dr. Allan Roy DaFoe, the Quins' physician; Oliva Dionne, their father; Percy Wilson, one of their guardians, and Keith Munro, their business manager.

Nevertheless, the mayor said it was his understanding a replica of the Dionne nursery will be constructed on the site of the razed Russian building. It will be equipped with "one-way glass" permitting visitors to see the girls inside without being seen by them. Dr. DaFoe, the mayor said, will be in constant attendance. All receipts from admissions will be turned over to the Canadian Red Cross. Extraordinary precautions will be taken to safeguard the quins during their sojourn—a visit that is expected to prove an attendance boom to the fair.

TWO EXECUTED FOR KIDNAPING UNDER U. S. ACT

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 12—Joseph Sacoda and Demetrius Gula, both 28, were marked up today as the first electrocution victims of New York's "Lindbergh Law."

They were electrocuted last night for kidnaping and murdering Arthur Fried, a White Plains contractor. Fried's body was so thoroughly cremated the state was unable to produce a corpus delicti to support a murder charge but the two were tried and convicted under the kidnaping law which carried the death penalty.

ROBERT GRINER IS DEAD AT 19

Death Shocks Friends Of Student; Funeral Rites
Not Arranged

His many friends in Circleville were shocked Friday to learn of the death at 4:15 a. m. in White Cross Hospital, Columbus, of Robert Lutz Griner, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Griner, 367 East Main Street. The youth, a graduate of Circleville High School in the class of 1939, had been attending Miami University, Oxford, as a freshman.

He became ill during the holiday season and did not return to school. His condition became critical early this week.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed, H. E. Deffenbaugh and Sons of Tilton being in charge of arrangements. Whether the rites will be public will depend on the nature of the youth's fatal illness.

Robert was born in Circleville April 19, 1921, a son of Fred P. and Willie Lutz Griner. Two sisters, Alice Mary and Rose Ann, survive in addition to the parents. The youth was prominent in his graduating class. He took the Classical course and ranked fifth in his class. He was a member of the Annual staff, the Hi-Y club, orchestra, Epsilon Mu Sigma and the mixed glee club.

GERMANS PRESS JEWS TO WORK IN CITY STREETS

BERLIN, Jan. 12—Amid snow and freezing temperatures, 20,000 Jews are at work clearing the streets of Berlin, and more will be added if necessary, authentic estimates today said.

Authorities said while all Jews will receive their living necessities and normal food card privileges, the principle remains that all the able-bodied "must earn their livings," and none can be admitted to the army.

Use of the Jews to clear streets of snow came as all Germany suffered a coal shortage due to transportation difficulties on the frozen canal systems.

As a result, landlords throughout the Reich were ordered to restrict warm water supplies. Until the coal shortage is relieved, it was understood that in Berlin use of warm water will be permitted on Saturdays and Sundays only.

FIVE HITS RECORDED

Another Ship Sinks After Striking Mine; Crew
Members Rescued

LONDON, Jan. 12—Skies above Britain and Germany again were streaked with airplanes today in the third successive day of intensified aerial and naval warfare.

Gunfire coming from the direction of the Thames Estuary was clearly audible in central London as anti-aircraft batteries opened up to chase off the invaders.

Tackled by British fighting planes and attracting the fire of anti-aircraft guns, German observation and bombing craft dipped over widely-separated areas on the east coast of England and Scotland.

A wall of shrapnel was hurled aloft by British anti-aircraft guns when a plane assumed to be German flew at a great height over the estuary of the Thames River.

Five Hits Scored

It was disclosed today that during yesterday's raids by German planes the 1,706-ton British steamer Keynes was bombed and sunk in the North Sea. One of the Nazi raiders scored five direct hits.

Seventeen members of the crew were landed safely.

Another German plane, a Heinkel, soared over the Yorkshire Coast but was quickly driven out to sea by British fighting planes.

A third plane, thought also to be a Heinkel, was spotted high over the Suffolk Coast. An anti-aircraft barrage drove it off in a south-easterly direction.

These flights, in which no bombs were dropped on land, followed.

ARMY AND NAVY FUND TO FORCE ECONOMY TEST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12—The first actual economy test of the new session of congress was scheduled today in house action on the $267,000,000 emergency national defense bill, which provides for expansion of the army and navy.

Despite indications of strong sentiment for preparedness, some members of the house economy bloc planned to seek to reduce the total of the bill.

The effort to place the house on record for reductions in President Roosevelt's budget was expected to be led by a bipartisan group headed by Reps. Clifton Woodrum (D) Virginia, and John Taber (R) New York, in charge of the measure.

"While the appropriations committee reported the bill with a reduction of but $4,801,615 under the budget estimates, it was understood that amendments would be offered on the floor to reduce the total still further," said Taber. "There are many places where reductions can be made. There is a lag in enlistments in the army and navy, and this alone makes possible a reduction."

The measure carries $116,218,345 for the War Department and $145,082,238 for the Navy Department. The appropriations were sought by the President to pay for expansion of the army and navy and other governmental services ordered when he declared a proclamation of a limited emergency last fall.

PUMPKIN SHOW DATES FAVORED BY STATE BOARD

October 16-19 Chosen For Big Festival; Numerous Other Days Assigned

GRAY ELECTED AGAIN

Board Of Agriculture Puts Gallipolis Man In Post As President

Circleville's big Pumpkin Show, one of the outstanding state-supported festivals in Ohio, will close the state's county fair season in 1940, the dates of October 16-19 being approved Thursday at the closing meeting of the Ohio Fair Managers' Association.

The October 16-19 dates were announced at the last meeting of the Pickaway County Agricultural Society, sponsors of the Pumpkin Show, but they did not become official until they were approved by the state.

The big festival follows the Fairfield County Fair and winds up the fair season that begins as early as August 1 when Monroe County has its event.

Charles J. Gray of Painesville was reelected Thursday as president of the Ohio Fair Managers' Association for another year. The convention was held in the Deshler-Wallick Hotel, Columbus. Other officers are R. C. Haines, Dayton, vice-president; N. E. Stuckey, Van Wert, second vice-president; Mrs. Don A. Detrick, Bellefontaine, secretary, and B. U. Bell, Xenia, treasurer.

Bricker Speaks
Governor John Bricker, who addressed the delegates at Thursday's banquet, said that 1940 would bring some improvements in the Ohio State Fair. Bricker was introduced by former Governor Myers Y. Cooper, who said: "He has a record as fine as any governor, and Ohio has had a lot of good governors."

Bricker last fall promised a new girls' dormitory and hog barn for the junior fair.

The State Board of Agriculture elected its 1940 officers, Thursday, choosing Ernest J. Riggs of Gallipolis as president, W. J. Galvin, prominent Wilmington publisher and farm operator, as vice-president, and Mrs. C. A. Steele, South Vienna, secretary.

The departmental assignments of the 10 members at the 1940 Ohio State Fair will be: Riggs, agriculture and horticulture; Galvin, speed; Mrs. Steele, fine arts and women's building; J. W. Weaver, swine; Walter J. Buss, poultry; C. L. Mitchell, sheep; W. W. Ellenwood, beef cattle; Charles E. Stahl, merchandise, machinery and dairy products; John W. Galbreath, night horse show and draft horses; Paul Jackson, dairy cattle.

Dates Established
Dates of the fairs include: Allen, August 20-24; Auglaize, September 24-27; Belmont, September 5-7; Champaign, August 6-9; Coshocton, October 1-5; Cuyahoga, August 15-18; Defiance, August 20-23; Franklin, August 14-16; Fulton, October 2-5; Guernsey, August 7-9; Hamilton, September 11-14; Hancock, September 4-7; Hardin, October 9-12; Henry, September 24-28; Jefferson, September 18-20; Logan, September 17-20; Lorain, August 31 to Sept. 2; Lucas, September 13-16; Medina, September 4-7; Miami, August 13-16; Monroe, August 1-3; Muskingum, August 13-16; Paulding, September 17-20; Perry, September 25-28; Putnam, October 1-5; Richland, July 31 to August 3; Seneca, August 20-23; Shelby, September 10-13.

Stark, August 31 to September 4; Tuscarawas, September 18-21; Union, October 1-4; Wayne, September 9-13; Williams, September 10-14; Wyandot, September 10-13.

The State Fair will be August 24-30.

The Montgomery County fair board was awarded the Myers Y. Cooper trophy, presented by the former governor, for having the best fair in the state in 1939. The Wayne County fair was judged the best Class "B" fair, for counties having a population of 35,000 to 90,000.

Class "C" honors, for counties of 24,000 to 35,000 population, went to the Coshocton County fair, while the Class "D" award was presented to the Brown County fair.

"DEATH ON REQUEST"

"Death on Request" is the title of Max Marcin's "Perfect Crime" dramatization on "Johnny Presents" over CBS Friday, January 12, at 9 p. m. The story, spotlighting the two popular fictional characters, "Inspector Ross" and "Step-Down Donovan," will be directed by Jack Johnstone. Johnny Green's orchestra supplies the music which includes "You're Letting the Grass Grow," "Yodeling Jive," "Faithful Forever," "I'll See You Again" and "I Love a Parade." Soloists are Genevieve Rowe, Bill Hargraves, the Swing Fourteen and the Six Diminutives. Johnny the Call Boy is master of ceremonies.

WOMAN OF WEEK

"Woman of the Week" on the Phil Spitalny "Hour of Charm" program over the NBC-Red network Sunday, January 14, at 10 p. m. will be Dr. Mary B. Harris, superintendent of the only Federal reformatory for women in the country at Alderson, West Va. Dr. Harris supervises a 500-acre plant, beautifully landscaped and entirely devoid of bars and guards. She is recognized as one of America's leading women penologists for her work in rehabilitating women prisoners. The interview will be conducted by John McIntire and the broadcast will come from Birmingham, Ala., where Spitalny and his all-female orchestra are filling a theatre engagement.

RADIO NOTES

Chances are that Kay Kyser and his "College of Musical Knowledge" will be heard from Florida for six weeks starting in February. There is a deal under way to get Kyser to the resort.

Frank Luther is currently working on a history of "Songs of America" at the suggestion of Little, Brown and Company, the book publishers.

Kate Smith's song selections for her January 12 airing include "I Thought About You," "Who Told You I Cared," "Speaking of Heaven" "At Least You Could Say Hello."

Dan Sutter is the only member of the Chicago cast of "Manhattan Mother," CBS serial, to come to New York with the series.

Don Vorhees may have two shows on the air. He's currently conducting for "Calvacade of America" and is doing a similar stunt for a new show with James Melton and Francis White which is on the verge of being sold to a sponsor.

ASHVILLE

Ashville, Phone 79

Gus Riley came down from Columbus Thursday and spent the day here among old friends. He with his sister, Miss Rose, spent their early life here. They now have steady employment, he told us, at the Federal Glass Works.

Clarence Swoyer, "Doc" they call him at the telephone office where he is employed, because he is the "fixer man" when anything goes wrong, was here today. And along with this he is one of the official photographers and the kind of pictures he turns out are just right and life-like. He has our thanks for a copy of his telephone publication. Our Dan Boone has a splendid camera but not the time to use it. And this is a good chance for some youngster to get into picture making.

Had another snow last night, about the fifth one that really counted according to the sign man at headquarters. Have some dozen to go yet to make it come out right but it is a long while yet to May 1, he said, and asked us to keep a careful count.

The Madison Township board of education was to have had another school house fire repair meeting Wednesday evening but it has been postponed for a couple of days. But in the meantime school is getting in full time each day.

Munday evening three meetings will be held in the village. Around at the Methodist Church the 100 percenters in attendance at Sunday School will have eats and enjoy a program under direction of Jerry Peters. But all Sunday school members with good or bad attendance records, are invited. Out at the school house, the Ashville-Harrison Joint board of education will be in session and up at the council chamber "the dais" will be paying bills and maybe planning a lot of things they have in mind that needs attention.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society in session at the church Wednesday was entertained by a group section composed of Miss Fanny Hook, Mrs. Ida Smith, Mrs. Mary Brinker, Mrs. Agnes Riegel, Mrs. Ada Rudy, Mrs. Stella Hoover. In the business session it was decided to accept the offer tendered their society to furnish meals for the two-day session of the Farmers' Institute held here January 24-25.

WALNUT CLOSES ITS INSTITUTE WITH ELECTION

Chester Noecker Chosen To Serve Next Year As President

OTHERS ARE SELECTED Derby, Commercial Point To Conduct Annual Fetes Next Week

Chester Noecker was named president of the Walnut Township Community Institute organization at the election held during the Thursday afternoon session. He succeeds Joseph Peters.

Frank Dill was reelected vice president and Gerald Solt was reelected treasurer. Miss Gladys Hines was elected secretary and Mrs. Russell Hedges was elected corresponding secretary.

The executive committee consists of Joseph Peters, chairman, Mrs. Wilbur Griffith, Mrs. Robert Barr, Everett Beers, James Moody and Miss Elizabeth Reber. K. L. Holtrey, vocational agricultural instructor, is adviser to the executive committee.

The institute closed Thursday night with a play by the Ashville-Hedges Chapel Epworth League.

DARBYVILLE

By Mrs. L. M. Hammack

The Parent-Teachers met in regular session Tuesday evening at the school building with nearly sixty present. The meeting was opened in regular form with Mrs. Marie Ankrom, president, presiding and Mrs. Florence Prichard, acting secretary. After the business was transacted the meeting was turned over to the first three grades under the leadership of Miss Doris Hott. A splendid program was given by the little folks in Miss Hott's room. A social hour was enjoyed by all after the program and refreshments of gingerbread, whipped cream and coffee were served. The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, February 13th.

Mrs. Jan Heeter of Circleville spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Neff and sons.

Mrs. Clara Collins who has been visiting for several weeks at the home of her daughter in Springfield was called home because of the death of her mother in Massieville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stimmler and daughter returned to their home in Port Huron, Michigan, after spending the holidays at the home of Mrs. Stimmler's mother, Mrs. Lillian Hott.

Mrs. Ecll Willoughby visited Sunday with her daughter in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Collins were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Ayrus Collins and family.

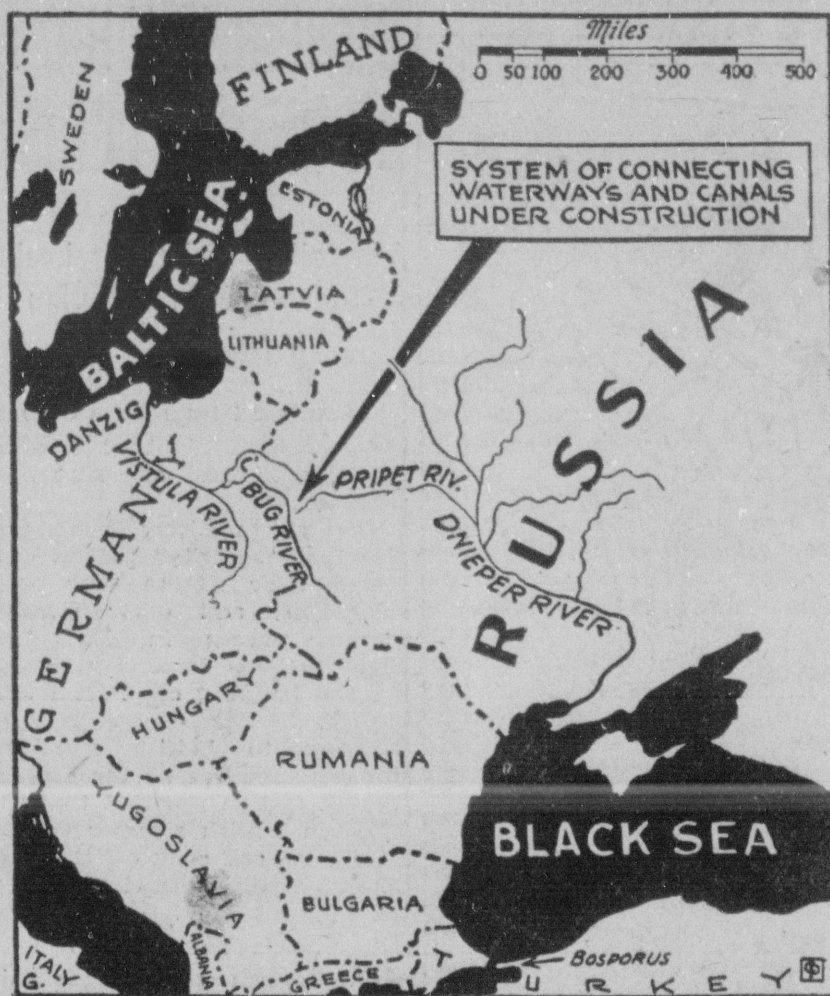

The ladies of the M. E. Church will hold a business meeting and covered dish dinner at the Ladies Aid Hall Friday evening, January 12 at 6:30.

CONSCIENCE MONEY

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.—The Christmas Charity Fund of the local lodge of Elks profited by $15 as a result of a "friend's" attempt to clear his conscience. A letter, bearing the postmark of a New Jersey community, contained $15. The letter stated that the writer had sold tickets for the lodge a few years ago and because of dire circumstances in his family he had kept the money.

This time the husband-hunting spinster gets an even break. It's Leap Year, but she must also give the census taker her correct age.

The Problem of Forgiveness

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Newman Campbell

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for January 14 is Matthew 18:15-19:30, the Golden Text being Matthew 6:12, "Forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.")

THE PROBLEM of forgiveness is the subject of the lesson today. How many times should we forgive those who are unkind to us or do us wrong?

Peter asked the question of Jesus. The Jewish law said you should forgive three times, no more. "Lord, how oft should my brother sin against me and I forgive him? until seven times?" asked Peter, seven being the sacred number.

Jesus answered him, "I say not unto thee, until seven times; but until seventy times seven"—meaning there should be no limit to the extent of forgiveness.

In the 18th chapter of Matthew Jesus told his apostles that if a brother trespassed against one of them the one injured should take the brother aside in secret and tell him his fault. If he would not listen, the apostle was to take two or three witnesses with him and again try to make him listen, and if he still would not, the matter should be taken to the church.

Tells Parable of Debtor

It was then that Peter asked how many times he should forgive one that sinned against him. Jesus illustrated His answer with a parable of a king who had a servant who owned him much money. The king was going to sell the man, his wife and children into slavery because of this debt, but the man fell at the king's feet and worshipped him and pleaded with him to be lenient and he would pay all the debt in time. The king, being a kindly man, was touched and forgave his servant the whole debt.

So what did the servant do? He sought out a man—a fellow servant—who owed him a much smaller sum of money, and taking him by the throat, he demanded the money. When the man pleaded with him and said he would pay as he was able, the servant who had been forgiven by the king refused to listen, but had him thrown into prison.

Other servants of the king heard of it and went and told their master. So the king sent for his servant, saying: "Shouldst not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow servant, even as I had pity on thee?" And he rebuked him and turned him over to the tormentors until he should pay.

In the 19th chapter of Matthew is told again the story of the rich young man who came to Jesus and asked how he might obtain eternal life. Jesus told him to obey the commandments. The young man said that from childhood he had done so. Then, said the Master, "If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven; and come and follow me."

Went Away Sorrowing

But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful, for he had great possessions. Jesus turned to His disciples and remarked that it was indeed hard for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven—"And again I say unto you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of God."

I wonder if that young man would have gained immortality as the apostles did, if he had done as Jesus asked him. It seemed to him too much to give up his wealth, but he would undoubtedly have gained much spiritual wealth if he had become a humble follower of the Master whom he recognized as such, but would not follow.

Do you find it difficult to forgive your enemies? Yet to be a really good Christian you must. You must forget your own personal feelings, realizing that no one can really hurt you unless they make you angry and revengeful. That is a real harm. But to make excuses for others who do wrong and to forgive and do them kindness, is really being a follower of the Gentle Jesus who, when suffering on the cross, prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Then can we truly pray, "Forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors."

RUMORS ABOUT HUGHES BOY'S ACCIDENT FALSE

Rumors circulated in Circleville Thursday that William Hughes, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hughes, residents of Shreve, O., had been fatally hurt in a traffic accident, were proved Thursday evening to be false. How the rumor was started is not known.

Friends of the Hughes family telephoned to Shreve, Wayne County, Thursday and talked with Mrs. Hughes. She said that William had not been involved in an accident.

The Hughes family lived in the Dunton block until recently, Mr. Hughes having been employed on the construction of Route 22 west of Circleville.

CRACK RUSSIAN FORCE MENACED BY FINN TROOPS

Helsinki Says Defenders To Wipe Out Third Army Of 20,000 Soldiers

Heard that the new division hastening westward from Kandalaksha would meet a similar fate.

With a dual Russian offensive in the Petsamo sector of the Far North repulsed, latest information in Helsinki indicated that two more Russian divisions are about to be caught in a similar net north of Lake Ladoga.

Thus three Russian divisions already have been wiped out or trapped, eliminating some 60,000 Soviet soldiers from the war, and a further 40,000 seem about to be gorged by the Finns in the South.

Leaflets Hurled

Finland's air force today made leaflet "raids" on Leningrad, Baltic port, and other Russian bases in the Baltic region.

Voicing two theories, one that the Russians are giving up all attempts at major offensives until spring, and two, that the Soviets, directed personally by Josef Stalin, have been ordered to press on regardless of the cost, military observers leaned to the latter opinion.

The assaults in the Petsamo region, and the dispatch of Soviet reinforcements to the Salla area, tended to show that the "Stalin offensive" theory was the more correct.

Amid the broader campaigns at Petsamo, Salla and Lake Ladoga, Finnish ski patrols continued to harass Soviet lines of communication, slashing deep into Soviet territory and cutting off detachments vital connections.

Stalin, reported to be directing operations by telephone from the Kremlin, continued his clean-up and reshuffle of the army command and political commissars on the Finnish fronts.

Under-Commissars Warned

At Kronstad, the Russian naval base on the Gulf of Finland, Gen. L. Z. Mekhlis, chief army political commissar—a Communist party "watch-dog" over the army—gave a stern lecture to 300 under-commissars and blamed them for the poor morale of the Russian army.

Among 1,500 prisoners on the Suomussalmi front were many nurses and women interpreters, who have been put to work caring for the Russian wounded in Finnish hospitals.

Temperatures which dropped to 40 degrees below zero aided in hampering Russian activities on the Eastern Front.

Big guns, however, again pounded the Mannerheim Line of fortifications on the Karelian Isthmus. Finnish officers estimated the Russian forces there at 400,000, and the number of Soviet artillery guns at 2,000.

The Copenhagen reports, have been executed.

Meretzov was removed from his post only a short while after hostilities broke out and was replaced by General Gregory Stern, one of Stalin's most trusted aides.

Recent reports have stated that Stern also failed to come up to the dictator's expectations and had been relieved of his command, to be succeeded by General Simeon Budenny, the famous old artillery leader of the Red army.

THREE RUNAWAY GIRLS RETURNED TO HOMES

Three Columbus girls who ran away from their homes were apprehended by Circleville police Thursday night.

Police listed their names as Bonnie Kistler, 13, 401 North Grant Avenue; Betty Turner, 14, 100 Cleveland Avenue, and Betty Ferguson, 14, of 876 Mansfield Avenue.

The Turner and Ferguson girls were returned to their homes by their parents. Miss Kistler was to be returned Friday.

Police Chief William McCrady said a motorist who brought the girls to Circleville reported at the police department that he believed they were runaways. Police said his name was not learned.

TWO ENGINEERS NAMED

Toll Of Tragedy Hits 17

mine owned by the Pond Creek Pochontas Coal Company.

Inspector's Hope Ends

While a few were confident that life may linger in some of the trapped miners, E. L. Chatfield, state mine inspector, virtually gave up hope. Commenting on the finding of the dozen bodies, he said:

"Evidence of violence around that section indicates that every man in the mine is doomed."

"Two loading machines weighing a ton each were blown 60 feet from their original position and the track on which they rested was twisted badly."

"Unless men in other sections succeeded in putting up brattices they hardly could have survived."

In the face of this disquieting expression mine officials and rescuers pressed through the slate and debris that still blocks entrance to other wrecked sections. From within came nothing that would indicate whether any of the entombed group are still alive.

Between two and three thousand persons, many of them weeping wives and relatives of the unfortunate below, braved a slight rain to wait at the mine's entrance for the news so tragic to many. Hoping for the best but fearing the worst, this group stood stoically behind rope barriers throughout the second night of rescue operations.

Hopes Maintained

Dawn and rain today did not dim their determination to wait until word comes from below that all are dead or some are brought to the earth's surface and the waiting arms of worried loved ones.

As the rescuers broke through the rock falls they reported the passageways relatively clear of debris and free of the dread gases that usually follow explosions. There were no signs of fire.

But there were also the pessimists who shook their heads gravely and remained skeptical that the men could survive a blast of such magnitude.

Forty-seven men had escaped alive, not knowing until they reached the outside that it was an explosion and not a heavy slate fall which had jarred their underground workings. And the first four men reached by the rescuers were dead.

Early this morning the eight rescue squads, working in 30-minute relays in four-hour shifts to keep them at peak efficiency, were within 200 feet of a section where 25 miners were known to have been working. They were about twice that far from another section where another 25 were at work and about three as far from the last group.

Company officials were themselves divided on the possibility of finding the men alive. "The chances are against finding any of the men alive," it was declared late yesterday afternoon by George Pile, company auditor. But later, G. J. Stollings, general manager, said more hopefully that "possibly 50 or 60 can be found alive."

Oxygen Provided

When the rescue squads reached the first 200 foot mark they paused to set up an "air base," as they called it, with which to supply the ventilating system they re-constructed as they went along and to give the miners much needed oxygen should any be found alive. Then they began digging through another huge slate fall which barred the passageway.

The center of the blast appeared to be about half way back inside the two and a half mile horizontal passageway which fanned out underground from the perpendicular shaft. Federal and state officials will begin their investigation to fix the cause of the blast as soon as the rescue work is completed.

May Have Hit Pocket

Meanwhile, the most common speculation was that the men had somehow broken into a gas-filled pocket in their diggings and that the combustible vapors had somehow been touched off into an explosion.

Outside, the wives were accepting whatever fate was in store for them with the stoicism that work in the mines breeds in the women of the mining communities. Several of them kept busy at the task of supplying the rescue workers with hot drinks and sandwiches. Mrs. Alonzo Barnett, at 21 the mother of four children, prodded the women workers at their task, refusing to divert her thoughts to her husband who was one of those trapped below.

secret. One, however, may be disclosed. An unceasing "security patrol" is being maintained by air force reconnaissance planes and submarines in the North Sea areas of the German coastline and across the Skagerrak against the German fleet putting to sea, and to give warning against Nazi air raiders.

Two members of this undersea security patrol, in the same week that the three British cruisers outfought the Graf Spee and brought about her "suicide" at Montevideo, struck other disastrous blows at the Nazi fleet.

The submarine Salmon torpedoed and sank the cruiser Leipzig, crippled the cruiser Bleucher, sank a German submarine and sent a large unit of the German fleet scurrying back to its base.

The submarine Ursula, only a few hours later, penetrated the strong defenses of the river Elbe and sank or disabled a Koeln class cruiser of 6,000 tons.

Then came the scuttling of the luxury liner Columbus, of 32,581 tons, third largest merchant vessel of the German merchant marine fleet, as she was overtaken by British warships in the Atlantic 500 miles off the American coast.

DEMS MEET MONDAY TO INDORSE JOB ASPIRANTS

The Pickaway County Democratic Executive committee will meet Monday at 8 p. m. to indorse a candidate for the county board of elections. The meeting will be in the Common Pleas courtroom.

The term of James Tootle, Monroe Township, expires this year. Indorsements will be made also for census enumerators. There will be 27 enumerators appointed, one for each township in the county and one for each precinct in the city. The enumerators will start their work on April 1.

QUESTION: I was given a poinsettia plant and it is infected with some insects. I wonder if spraying kerosene over it would damage the plant? Could you tell me if it would, or would you suggest a destroyer?

ANSWER: It is, of course, impossible to say definitely what insect is bothering your poinsettia without seeing it. However, I suspect it is merely bug, an insect quite common on house plants. Since kerosene seriously injures growing plants, you will have to use something else. A commercially prepared oil spray is the most satisfactory. However, if you do not wish to get this, wrap a little cotton around the end of a toothpick, dip it in rubbing alcohol, and rub off the insects one by one. A little extra alcohol will help to kill any young ones nearby. Ask your county agricultural agent for a copy of the extension bulletin on house plants.

QUESTION: I have a century plant. Do they bloom and how often? Mine is a starter although I have had it about a year.

ANSWER: Although a century plant blooms oftener than their name indicates, I believe a number of years' growth so the plant is several feet in diameter will be required before it will bloom.

QUESTION: Can you tell me where I can purchase some snowdrops?

ANSWER: The snowdrop (Galanthus) is a bulb which must be planted in the fall. You will have to wait now until next fall to purchase some.

QUESTION: Can you tell me where I can get some literature about Ohio state parks and beauty spots?

ANSWER: If you will write to Mr. O. A. Alderman, State Forester, Wooster, Ohio, he will be glad to send you a leaflet containing information on our state parks.

QUESTION: I am inclosing slips from my oleander and gardenia which are infected with insects which are spreading to my other plants. Is there anything I can use on these plants or will they have to be destroyed?

ANSWER: The scale insect which is on both your gardenia and oleander may be controlled by spraying with a commercial oil. If you have but a few plants, you may be able to control by mixing up some strong soapuds and with a soft brush wash each and every leaf, together with all parts of the stem.

QUESTION: Please inform me what vine can be used as a ground cover that is an evergreen or refined foliage, rather quick growing, and can be grown successfully in mostly shade.

ANSWER: The periwinkle or myrtle are probably best for your requirements although equally satisfactory for a shaded location would be the Baltic variety, the

BAD EGGS USED BY TIBETANS IN LOVE CEREMONY

LONDON—Bad eggs today are not so bad, in fact, they are good—they make big money, especially when used for love rituals in Tibet.

And the other war—the Sino-Japanese one—is playing the biggest part in the bad eggs market. Shipments of canned eggs held up by the war in China are bad by the time they arrive in Britain.

Thus, recently 106 tons of canned eggs from China were condemned as unfit for human consumption by Dr. W. Scott, Medical Officer of Health for the London borough of Southwark.

"The bad eggs market is an industry involving hundreds of thousands of dollars every year," said Dr. Scott today.

"All bad eggs must be sent back to the contractors. They can always make them pay."

"Big prices can be obtained for bad eggs, which are used mostly in leather tanning, poultry and pig feeding."

"Thousands of tons are shipped every year to Tibet. They are used in the rituals of love-making in that country."

With a seemingly friendly hand on Chilton's shoulder, Warden Hunt asked that "the governor of Ohio, the people of Ohio and Chilton do the right thing."

"Feel Like Skunk"

"I feel like a skunk at a lawn party," he said. "But there is more involved than Chilton, his fine wife and his fine son."

"The fundamental institutions of this government are on trial. We're concerned with the welfare of 2,500 boys in our institution. They want to walk out and emulate Chilton. But I tell you that 95 of them come back—and not reformed."

Secretary Miller turned a transcript of the hearing over to Governor Bricker, who will study the testimony and announce his decision today.

VIRGINIA SOLON SEES ECONOMY MOVES GAINING

Byrd, Foe Of New Deal's Spending, Ventures Prediction

BIG APPROPRIATIONS HIT Grab For More Legislative Power To Be Issue In Next Election

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 — A prediction that "real governmental economy" is on the way was sounded unexpectedly today by one of the most vigorous critics of New Deal spending—Senator Byrd (D) Virginia.

Not once in the last several years has Byrd ventured such a prediction, but he believes the current congressional wave of economy demands is at last "the real thing." However, he coupled his cheerfulness on this score with a warning that the administration "hasn't stopped reaching out for power," and said this was closely connected with the question of government spending.

"I think congress is coming to real governmental economy at last," Byrd said. "A few years back you couldn't get even an expression for economy in congress; now we hear it on every side."

"It looks like we are coming to realize finally that we can't forever spend two dollars for every one we take in."

Appropriations Flayed
The Virginian's warning against "concentration of power" was directed specifically at lump sum appropriations asked by the administration, but in effect, it echoed the sharp attack on "arbitrary powers" of the administration delivered in the senate by Senator Borah (R) Idaho. He said the government already had "gone too far in this direction," and called for a halt.

He added:
"If a halt isn't called in the handing over of legislative power to the executive branch, it will prove a major issue in the coming presidential campaigns. I'm opposed to it, and I'm sorry to say the trend is still in that direction. Witness the proposal of Secretary of the Navy Edison for a low permitting the President to take over industry under his limited emergency proclamation for peacetime."

Byrd declared that every administration request for a lump sum appropriation which did not specifically name the purpose to which every dollar was to be put, was "clearly arbitrary power."

He added:
"I'll never vote for another lump sum appropriation as long as I live."

Boost Imperative
Byrd does not believe congress would go so far at this session as to enact new taxes to reduce budget deficits, but said he would gladly go along if any such move was started. He said he had no particular taxation method in view, but that a "boost all along the line" must be affected if any progress is to be made towards balancing the budget.

"Maybe if this congress will reduce expenditures," he said, "we'll have made a real beginning and taxes will come a little later. Our feeling for reduced spending, and the careful scrutiny that is to be given the big defense program, to my mind, indicates we are serious about this thing. I'll help all I can."

HAVE YOU GOT A TELEPHONE? IF NOT, WHY NOT?

PETTENGILL "The Gentleman from Indiana"

THE DIES COMMITTEE
One important, immediate matter for decision at the present session of Congress is whether the work of the Dies Committee shall be continued. There is large public interest in this question. The other night we had a lively debate over the topic, in which I held the affirmative, over the Town Hall of the Air, in New York.

It was once said of a great American that "we love him for the enemies he has made." Who are the enemies of the Dies Committee? Who wants it, discontinued? Here are a few,—Earl Browder, under indictment, Fritz Kuhn, now in prison; the Communist party, the Bund, the Daily Worker, the New Masses, the New Republic, the Nation, Labor's Non-Partisan League, The American Youth Congress, The American Student Union, which has just PETTENGILL given its blessing to Russia's attack on Finland; the American League for Peace and Democracy, the Workers Alliance, Secretary Ickes and Madam Perkins. All of these were also behind the bill to pack the Supreme Court, they all favored the "dictatorship" reorganization bill, they all applauded the attempt to purge Democratic Senators in 1938. We judge the objections by the objections. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

The American League for Peace and Democracy is the largest group fighting the Dies Committee. The Committee acquired its hatred by publishing the names of the Washington, D. C. members and mailing list of the League, 553 in number, nearly all of whom are employees of the Federal Government,—your government, several in key positions.

It is probable that many of these members were duped into joining an outfit which Earl Browder described as a "transmission belt" for the Communist party, and of which he was formerly vice chairman. But these people are not private citizens. Most of them are public officials. They hold office under the Constitution of the United States. Their salaries are paid by the loyal taxpayers of this nation. Now I ask this question: What right has any public official to belong to any organization, the publication of which would embarrass him in the slightest degree? Or putting it another way, has not the public the right to know the names, purposes, and financial support of every political organization to which any public servant belongs? If not, why? What right has any one drawing his pay and groceries from the government of our country to belong secretly to any organization whatever, and to be protected in that secrecy?

Dr. Harry F. Ward, the head of this League, denies what Browder asserts — that the League is a "transmission belt" of the Communist party and the Third International. But it is in evidence that two or three thousand dollars a year, or 15 percent of the League's budget, is contributed by the Communist party. Dr. Ward himself has admitted that 2 out of 25 of its steering committee are Communists, and that its membership is probably 10 percent Communist.

If so, the Washington Chapter is 10 percent Communist. That means that 10 percent at the very least, or 55 of 553 names are Communists. Now I, for one, am old-fashioned enough to hold that NO Communist has any business on the payroll of our government. NOT ONE! I submit, further, that no government employee who is not a Communist, has any business to knowingly belong to an outfit which is 10 percent or 5 percent or 1 percent Communist.

With reference to the 90 percent who are not Communists, according to Dr. Ward, I think the Dies Committee should give them an opportunity to disavow any loyalty to any flag except the Stars and Stripes, and to any political creed except the American Constitution. If satisfied of their good faith the Dies Committee should give these innocent people a clean bill of health. And for that reason, among others, I submit that the Dies Committee should be continued.

No one is called upon to give a blanket endorsement to everything done by this Committee. But on net balance it has done a great job against great difficulties. And now that we are spending billions to defend our land against foreign foes, we would be the prize boobs of the ages if we called off the Dies Committee from continuing to expose the enemies within. Let us keep the spotlight on our navy yards, our merchant marine, our factories manufacturing military supplies, our newspapers and book reviews, our press services, relief agencies, and all public officers, our schools, and even our churches until we are sure and certain that no one longer works in secret at least to betray America to a foreign flag and a pagan god!

SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL.

MERCURY FALL ON FORECAST

Water Fills Streets Of City; Rain Expected To Turn To Snow

Circleville streets became streams of inky water Friday as the blanket of snow and ice melted. The slush was ankle deep in places and a light rain and fog added to the unfavorable weather conditions.

More rain, probably turning to snow with colder temperatures, was forecast for late Friday. The temperature stayed above the freezing line Thursday night. Lowest temperature recorded was 34 degrees. Highest Thursday was 39. The precipitation amounted to .2 of an inch.

The state weather bureau predicted the mixture of rain on icy sidewalks. Driving was hazardous but no auto accidents were reported.

Library Notes

A list of new books added to the Public Library recently was announced Friday by Daniel Pfoutz, librarian.

The list includes:
From Another World, the autobiography of Louis Untermeyer. It is a personal history by the man who helped shape the social and literary history of the world. It deals with events and persons with which he was connected and America's cultural renaissance.
Rustic Construction by W. B. Hunt. This book shows how to make the rustic furniture and decorations you admire.
I Believe, edited by Clifton Fadiman. This book is the personal philosophies of certain eminent men and women of our time.
Johann Strauss, Father and Son, by H. E. Jacob. An analysis of the interrelation of music and the changing world, tracing light music from the minuet to jazz as a background to the lives of musicians, above all the Strauss family.
Music for Fun, by Sigmund Spaeth. This is a book for the thousands who wish today that their childhood had included a sensible and practical introduction to music.

Heroes, Outlaws and Funny Fellows, by O. B. Miller. A collection of truly American folk tales rooted in the traditions, history and character of our country. This book is mostly for children up to the age of 14.
Shakespeare, by Mark Van Doren. An interpretation of the greatest English poet written out of the conviction that Shakespeare's plays and poems are still the most important things to know about him and that they can be looked at as freshly today, in the light of the beautiful masterpieces which they are, as ever.

The Danube, by Emil Lengyel. From its source in the Black Forest to its delta in the Black Sea, the River Danube flows not only through the heart of Europe but through 2,000 years of fateful history. This book is the history of that region, its peoples and cultures.

Time Table for Tramps, by Tibor Kaevs. This is a book of travel in general and the chief varieties of vagabonds, of cities and famous individual travelers.
Pottery Made Easy, by J. W. Dougherty. Contrary to the popular belief pottery making is an inexpensive hobby that can be carried out at home with homemade equipment.

Bats, by C. M. Allen. This book contains a tremendous amount of new information and old about bats of all kinds.
Kentucky, by the Federal Writers' Project. This is a descriptive and historical guide to the state.

AIRLINE PLANE LANDS SAFELY ON RIVER ICE
CHICAGO, Jan. 12—A United Airlines transport plane west-bound from Chicago to San Francisco with five passengers made a forced landing early today on the ice-covered Rock River at Moline, Ill., the airline reported.

An airline spokesman at Chicago said that after the passengers and three members of the crew had been examined at a hospital, it was determined all had escaped with minor bruises except for the pilot, Capt. Charles Wheeler, whose knee was lacerated.

The plane, forced down by engine trouble which developed a little more than two hours after the takeoff from Chicago at 10:30 o'clock last night, came down on the river at 1 a. m. It was damaged slightly in landing, it was said.

Another transport plane took off from Chicago at 4 a. m. to pick up the passengers and continue the flight westward. All passengers had declared themselves ready to continue the journey, the airline spokesman said.

STARS SAY—

For Friday, January 12
THE LUNAR aspects for this day may be read as holding conflicting experiences. There is a sign of a surprising about-face in certain situations, demanding a change of plans, interests and probably surroundings, with more or less disturbance and confusion. There also is promise of a very definite stabilizing of the affairs, especially in reconstructing old or lagging circumstances, with the solid support or endorsement of elderly persons or old-established institutions. Lively affectional or romantic engagements are indicated. Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of much progress in stabilizing the affairs, probably through sound plans, application and the friendly offices of elders or old institutions. Change of plans, place and objectives may be involved with some turmoil and anxiety. An element of romance or sentiment is of major importance, and there is prospect of courtship or matrimony to enhance the stabilization.

A child born on this day may have many solid and enduring factors for a successful and happy life. It may be steady, studious, faithful and dependable, winning the prefrment of its elders and superiors. Affection, graciousness and kindness also predominate.

OPEN LETTERS

TO CIRCLEVILLE POLICE

OFFICERS: I am convinced, as are many other persons with whom you come in contact daily, that you fellows could, if you only would, form one of the finest police forces in Ohio. There is not a single one of you who is afraid to do his duty; all of you are acquainted with the law, and you know right from wrong. But what gets me is the attitude that some of you have been showing in the last several months. Any police department to function properly must function together. No organization that is not harmonious can long endure, and the same thing holds true in a police department whether it includes two or 20 officers. The adage: "United We Stand—Divided We Fall" was never more true than at present. Why can not you fellows get together and show Circleville and Pickaway County that we can have an excellent enforcement corps? Show your superiors, your city council, your Civil Service Commission that the rumors and charges they have been hearing concerning some of you can now be charged off as things of the past? All of you are dependent on your positions and certainly all of you should prove that when that salary check comes around twice monthly, or monthly, or whenever it does come, that its recipient truly deserves every cent that it calls for. The Civil Service Commission let it be known in no few words the other evening that something is going to be done. You are all aware of the statute through which the safety director can suspend an officer for as long as 30 days without pay for disciplinary purposes. No suspended officer has any recourse if the director decides to take such a step. A month's pay wouldn't be so nice to lose, but the Commission has let it be known that that is exactly what is going to happen unless some changes in attitude and behavior are made. I'm for every man on the force if he will perform the duties to which he is assigned, and if he will conduct himself as an officer should. More power to all of you.

GENTLEMEN: The way you put sand on the busy streets during the last week was far more effective than the previous arrangement of using it only at intersections. When the streets are icy they should be given a thorough sanding. Spreading a little at crossings does not help

WORLD AT A GLANCE —By— Charles P. Stewart

LIKE NEARLY everybody throughout the county, Washington officialdom has been delighted by the strong showing that the Finns started off with against Russia.

However, professional military men have not had any idea, from the beginning, that the little republic's plucky, competent soldiery could, for very long, fight successfully against the enormous numerical odds in the Soviets' favor. With an alignment which permits the Muscovites to sacrifice 60 men for each lone Finnish casualty, experts have agreed, "Oh, what's the use in gambling on Finland?" The Finns' morale has been recognized as out of all proportion to the Russians'. Nevertheless, it takes a lot of morale to offset 60-to-1 in numbers.

Even supposing the Finlanders get considerable help from sympathetic outsiders, the consensus of professional opinion has been that the small body of northern scrappers are outclassed hopelessly. The field of combat is frightfully unhandy for most pro-Finnish outsiders to get into. A modicum of Swedish and Norwegian manpower is available. Its quality is superlative, but, in quantity, it's only a drop in the bucket.

SIR: You should feel proud of your election as chairman of the Circleville board of education. This organization, although there is no salary connected with any of the positions except that of clerk, is a vital one to our community. Our children are in your hands and the hands of those persons whom you employ. You should prove to be an excellent board president, because you have had considerable experience on the board as a member. I believe that Circleville has an excellent board of education, and it is your duty to supervise it to the best of your ability. The school problem is a great one, and it deserves much study and careful supervision.

DEAR SIR: Congratulations on your appointment as field Scout executive in the district that includes Pickaway County. Your extensive training in Scouting should be of great assistance to you in your new work. I hope you conduct an active campaign to have more troops established in Pickaway County. There should be more Scout troops, but the big difficulty lies in getting organizations to sponsor the troops. I hope you have some successful means of solving the problem.

CIRCUITEER.

TO YOUTHS

BOYS: I am very much disgusted with the way some of you are treating property that does not belong to you. The matter that has me angered is the practice of some of you in bending the pipes that have been placed in front of business houses on which Christmas trees and other decorations are placed during various seasons. You should not deface this property, and all of you know it. How about keeping your hands off from now on?

CIRCUITEER.

TO UTILITY EMPLOYEES

POLE-CLIMBERS: This is a belated orchid, but nevertheless it carries some thought with it. I observed, and so did many other residents of the city, that you fellows climbed poles to take down the holiday decorations even though the weather was too cold to be out of doors let alone up on an icy pole. You fellows do a good job the whole year around, and you deserve some praise.

CIRCUITEER.

TO HOUSEWIVES

LADIES: A good place for the crumbs and bread crusts that are left from your tables would be in the back- or side-yard where hungry birds could be provided with feasts. Snow covers the ground, and food for our feathered friends is mighty scarce. I know that many of you are already feeding the birds that have been in your neighborhoods, but there are many other persons who "just haven't thought about it."

How Colds in Head React to High Flying

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Does high altitude flying have any effect on head colds?

It is a common belief that high altitude flying will make a head cold worse and intensify the symptoms. The mucous membrane in the nose is already congested when a person has a head cold, and it is true that altitude increases the congestion. The sensation of fullness in the ear and deafness due to the lack of equalization of pressure are much worse when there is a head cold which may stop up the lower end of the Eustachian tube and interfere with the escape of air with in the middle ear.

Even minute hemorrhages have been found on the surface of the ear drum as a result of flying in high altitudes when the nose is affected.

It has been observed that the baneful effects of high altitude flying may be almost completely neutralized, and full protection afforded, if the human subject is given the advantage of inhalations of helium and oxygen. Helium is a very light gas and has been found beneficial mixed with oxygen in asthma because it can be breathed into the lungs with greater ease than air. Airplane companies are now installing tanks of oxygen and helium in their ships to meet this emergency.

Those who are sensitive to dust and pollen grains are, of course, as is well known, immediately relieved on attaining high altitudes, although studies made by research workers have shown that pollen grains do float at surprisingly great heights.

Another condition which is relieved by attaining a high altitude is a certain type of vacuum headache.

In recognition of the harmful effects of inadequate ventilation and chilling of the body surfaces, conditions which seem to cause head your first experience before a mike?"

"The very first."

"Well, Romany, we pause to predict right here that it won't be your last. You have a lovely speaking voice, poise, beauty—everything it takes, I should say, to break into radio."

There was applause from the audience.

"Thank you, Romany sighed. "I hope you're right."

"What branch of radio are you interested in?"

Romany looked a little self-conscious.

"I want to be a dramatic actress."

"Fine! You'll make it," Nelson assured her. "I bet you got that when you were in the dramatic club at Indiana."

"I'm afraid I did," she admitted. "So did I," the announcer laughed, and was interrupted by an alarm clock going off in a box beside him.

Romany looking surprised, stepped back.

"The prize!" Nelson reached into his pocket and took out an envelope. "This is your lucky night, Miss Haile. You get the thirty-five dollars that Haller's Desserts presents on this program every Saturday evening."

"Thirty-five dollars!" Romany was so thunderstruck that Nelson laughed heartily as the crowd applauded. She thanked him when she caught her breath, unable to believe her good fortune.

At that moment she looked up to see Cholly jumping up and down with excitement close by. Nelson extended his hand again:

"We thank you very much, Miss Haile, for this Haller interview, and may we tell you we'll all be hoping your dreams come true in Chicago. If you're ever around the Interstate Broadcasting building, run in and say 'Hello,' and we'll talk about Indiana U. How's that?"

"I'd love it—and thank you," Romany smiled and hurried away to join Charlotte.

"Cholly!" She held the envelope out. "You look in it. I'm afraid it isn't real."

Cholly embraced her excitedly.

"Aren't you the lucky thing? I just can't believe it! And you were wonderful, Romany, really you were! I'd have choked to death. You were so natural."

"Was I really?" Romany asked breathlessly. "Oh, I hope so! Isn't Brent Nelson wonderful? I'd no idea he was so handsome."

"He is terribly good looking for a blond," Cholly agreed. "But I like 'em tall and dark."

"You wouldn't be thinking of Terry O'Rourke?" Romany handed Cholly the hatbox and they walked out of the station.

"That same," Cholly shook her red curly head dubiously, and her blue eyes grew a little more tender.

Pickaway Country Club Luncheon-Bridge Scene

Club, Few Friends Invited By Mrs. Terwilliger

Beautiful arrangement of yellow and white chrysanthemums in crystal formed the centerpiece of the long table when Mrs. Meeker Terwilliger of East Main Street entertained Thursday at a luncheon-bridge at the Pickaway Country Club.

Her guests included members of a club group and a few additional friends, covers being placed for Mrs. John Boggs, Mrs. George Foreman, Mrs. Glenn I. Nickerson, Mrs. L. M. Mader, Mrs. George Littleton, Mrs. R. R. Bales, Mrs. Orion King, Mrs. H. P. Folsom, Mrs. F. B. Brunner, Mrs. Tom O. Gilliland and Mrs. Harry Sohn.

Contract bridge played progressively at three tables occupied the guests during the hours following the luncheon, prizes being awarded for scores to Mrs. Mader and Mrs. Brunner. Mrs. Nickerson received the traveling prize.

Shower Honors Bride

Mrs. Emerson Brown, a recent bride, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Wednesday at the home of Miss Maxene Canter of Ashville. Mrs. Frank Jinks assisted her with the party.

The many beautiful and useful gifts were opened amid pink and white decorations of the home. The lunch also was carried out in a scheme of pink and white.

Mrs. Brown was presented an electric clock by the members of the United Brethren Sunday School. This was in appreciation of her eight years of faithful service as pianist, having missed only three services in that time.

Those enjoying the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Brown, Mrs. Wayne Brown and daughter, Helen, of St. Paul; Mrs. C. C. Cloud, Mrs. Lucy Cline, Mrs. Donald Cloud, Mrs. G. H. Brintlinger, Mrs. George Messick, Nettie Brintlinger, the Misses Maude and Ida Plummer, Garnet and Hazel McClurg, Easter Walen, Jereldine and Josephine Cline, Ernestine Pobst, Dorothy Cook, Louise Carley, Mary Kinder, Mrs. Russell Reid, the Misses Dorothy and Ethel Mae Reid, Mrs. Bertha Petty, the Rev. and Mrs. O. Morris C. E. Society

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Musselman were assisting hosts when the Christian Endeavor Society of Morris United Brethren Church met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Musselman of Pickaway Township, for its January session.

With Marvin Musselman, president, in the chair, the meeting opened with group singing and scripture reading. Four new members were received at this meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Morris of Pickaway Township and the Misses Janet Metzler and Frances Davis of Circleville.

After the business session, lunch was served to 55 members and guests during the social hour. Games and music furnished the evening's entertainment.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Brown of Circleville.

Missionary Society Meets

The Women's Missionary Society of the St. Paul Evangelical Church of Washington Township met Thursday at the home of Mrs. M. M. Bowman of near Stoutsville. The business hour in charge of Mrs. Bowman, president, was devoted to naming the year committees of the group.

Mrs. Harold Dutt was appointed secretary of literature and Mrs. Boyd Stout, secretary of the prayer league.

The thankoffering committee includes Mrs. Viola Glick, Miss Sadie Leist, the Misses Dorothy and Alma Glick; Mrs. Loring Leist, Mrs. H. E. Leist, Mrs. W. D. Leist, Mrs. Edwin Leist, Mrs. Oakley Leist, faith and love committee; Mrs. Dutt, Mrs. Lawrence Warner and Mrs. Bowman, year program committee. It was decided that the members of the society would save pennies during February, the fund to be sent to a mission in Kentucky.

The February meeting will be held at the church and will be a day of prayer service.

Ladies' Society Meets

The Ladies' Society of Christ Lutheran Church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Edward Hulse, Deercreek Township, with Mrs. Van Meter Hulse as assistant.

- Scalloped Oysters
Stewed Tomatoes
Carrots and Peas Vegetable Salad
Hot Molasses Cake Coffee
- Scalloped Oysters—Ingredients: 25 oysters with liquor, two cups bread crumbs, one-half cup rich milk, two tablespoons butter, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Grease making dish and cover bottom with bread crumbs. Lay oysters in carefully, season and cover with bread crumbs. Four milk and oyster liquor over all and top with butter cut into small pieces. Bake in hot oven (425 F.) for 20 minutes.
- Hot molasses Cake—Ingredients: one-half cup shortening, one-half cup brown sugar, one egg, one-half cup molasses, two cups flour, three teaspoons salt, one-fourth teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon allspice, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half cup milk. Cream shortening; add sugar slowly, creaming well. Add beaten egg and molasses; beat well. Add flour sifted with baking powder, salt, soda and spices alternately with milk; mix well. Bake in shallow greased tin at 375 F. for about 35 minutes. Serve warm. If desired, spread thinly with chocolate icing. Makes 12 pieces.
- Roast Pork with Dressing
Baked Potatoes
Apple Sauce Brussels Sprouts
Celery Pickles
Vanilla Ice Cream
with Hot Mince Sauce
Coffee
- PERSONALLY, I like a plain bread dressing with seasonings of onion and sage with roast pork. In fact, if I do not use dressing with pork, I usually sprinkle the meat with a mixture of onion and sage before roasting.
- Bread Dressing — Ingredients: two cups bread crumbs, one small onion, one teaspoon sage, one teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one tablespoon melted butter. Dry bread crumbs in oven until they are crisp, put through food chopper with onion and sage. Add butter and seasonings and moisten with egg and milk or water. Do not make too wet. Put under pork roast or in roaster at the side of meat while cooking.
- Brussels Sprouts — Wash and take off faded leaves. Cook in boiling salted water until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain and pour melted butter over them and serve.
- Hot Mince Sauce — Ingredients: one (nine-ounce) package dry mincemeat, one-half cup water, one tablespoon rum flavoring. Break mincemeat into pieces. Add cold water. Place over heat and stir until all lumps are thoroughly broken up. Bring to brisk boil; continue boiling for three minutes or until mixture is practically dry. Add flavoring. Serve hot over vanilla ice cream. Sauce may be thinned with water to any desired consistency.

String Beans and Eggs
Mashed or Creamed Potatoes
Celery Cabbage, Green Pepper and Celery Salad
Cottage Pudding Lemon Sauce
Tea or Coffee

THIS MEAL may be prepared very quickly. You can, if you wish, buy a plain cake and serve with lemon sauce in place of the cottage pudding. However, a cottage pudding may be made very quickly and be baking while the rest of the meal is being prepared and eaten.

String Beans and Eggs—Ingredients: two to six eggs, one cup canned string beans, diced, and one-half cup cooked minced ham or bacon. Add beans and meat and cook over low heat until eggs are set, stirring two or three times during cooking.

Cottage Pudding — One-fourth cup shortening, one-half cup sugar, one egg, one-half teaspoon vanilla extract, one and one-half cups pastry flour, two and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-third cup milk. Cream shortening, add sugar slowly, beating in well, add unbeaten egg and flavoring; beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk; mix well and bake in well-greased baking pan or small ring mold in 350 degree F. oven for from 30 to 40 minutes. Serve warm. Serves four.

Lemon Sauce—Ingredients: one-half cup sugar, two tablespoons flour, three-fourths cup cold water, two tablespoons butter, grated rind and juice one lemon, one egg yolk. Mix together sugar and flour, add water and stir until smooth. Add butter and lemon rind and boil five minutes, stirring constantly until thick. Add lemon juice and slightly beaten egg yolk; cook two minutes longer. Can be used warm or cold.

PASTOR, BURMAN MEET IN DETROIT MARCH 14

NEW YORK, Jan. 12—Bob Pastor, New York heavyweight, and Clarence (Red) Burman of Baltimore are expected to sign tomorrow for a 12-round bout at the Olympia Stadium in Detroit March 14.

Jack Kearns, Detroit promoter, said today he expected to "straighten out a few more details" and that the bout would be signed tomorrow.

Burman has been insisting that Pastor ran out on a match with him.

Pastor is recuperating from a broken knuckle suffered in his last bout but says he will be ready "to pin Burman's ears back" by March 14.

BIG LOM'S POOR SEASON TO COST HIS POCKETBOOK

NEW YORK, Jan. 12—All the way from California comes a wail today from Ernest Lombardi who has been deeply wounded in the wallet by the Cincinnati Baseball Club.

Old Schnozzla has just received news of a $6,000 salary shave. For that money they ought to throw in a shampoo and a massage.

It has been a hard winter for Lombardi, the notorious World's Series sidown striker. He will always be remembered as the guy who took the most expensive nap at the home plate. He wasn't down a minute but it is costing him six grand. It's enough to give a guy insomnia.

The Cincinnati management points out, however, that old Schnozz is being penalized, not for his imitation of the dying gladiator at Crosley Field last October, but for his shortcomings over the season.

Lombardi led the National League in hitting for the season of 1938 with a .342 average. Last season he ranked No. 33 with a .287 average. He batted in only 55 runs to rank 12th in the department. He stood 11th as a fielding catcher.

The Cincinnati management argues that big Ernie was paid in full for 1938 with a $6,000 boost for 1939. Now he gets a $6,000 cut and must start from taw again on his original 1938 rating.

EDDIE SIMMS RATED AS EVEN WITH BUDDY

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12—Eddie Simms, Cleveland, was rated at even money to dethrone Heavyweight Champion Jack "Buddy" Walker, undefeated Columbus Negro, in their ten-round bout at Columbus Auditorium tonight.

Matchmaker Whitely Morrett has asked Gunnar Barlund, Finnish heavy, to meet the winner of tonight's embroglio in a match for the Finnish relief fund.

Five Tilts On County Card; Red, Black Plays Berne; Two Next Week

Five cage contests, all of more or less importance, are on the schedule for Friday evening in the Pickaway County League, New Holland and Perry, the most natural rivals in the county, tangling at Atlanta in the feature. On season's records the Bulldog teams, victors Tuesday over Walnut in a double bill, should knock off the contests, but since Atlanta is the scene and the rivalry so intense anything can happen.

Another feature sends the league-leading Pickaway Pirates to Jackson Township to meet Carroll Woodruff's unpredictable Fox Postoffice lads. The Pirates are riding the crest of a victory string that is as yet unblemished.

Other games include Deercreek at Scioto, Walnut at Darby and Saltcreek at Ashville. The Saltcreek-Ashville contest will be featured by a double-header, the Ashville varsity taking on Lancaster St. Mary and the Ashville reserves playing Saltcreek.

CARDS TO SELL COLUMBUS TEAM TO NEW GROUP

Landis Approval Sought Before Deal May Be Completed

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12—Purchase of the Columbus Red Birds of the American Association by a group of Columbus sportsmen was believed imminent today following a conference between spokesmen for the group and President Sam Breardon and Branch Rickey, general manager of the parent St. Louis Cardinals.

With Larry MacPhail, vice-president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, acting in an advisory capacity to T. L. Huntington and Richard T. Rector, Columbus sportsmen, the deal was believed nearly complete. It was rumored that even the purchase price had been agreed upon, and that only a few minor details remained to be ironed out.

The approval of Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner of baseball, must be obtained before the deal can be carried out. If his stamp of approval is placed on the transaction, Robert S. Pein, president of the State Automobile Insurance Co., will in all probability become the club's president.

A working agreement between the Cards and the Red Birds and the retention Manager Bert Shotton, were predicted if the deal goes through.

MacPhail was at first reported interested in the acquisition of the club for his Dodgers, but later it was reported he was acting only as an adviser to his Columbus friends.

Purchase price of the club was reportedly in excess of $300,000, including the Red Bird Stadium, one of the finest minor league parks in the country.

The Cardinals purchased the Red Birds from the Cincinnati club in 1931. Since that time three AA pennants and two little World Series championships have been captured. But for the last two years the Birds have failed to put a winning team on the field, and suffered losses of approximately $100,000.

MUSKIES, FINDLAY AND OHIO NORTHERN ON TOP

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12—Muskingum, Findlay and Ohio Northern today counted easy victories over their opponents as the hectic scramble for Ohio Basketball honors continued.

Muskingum's comfortable 10-point victory over Heidelberg was the smallest victory margin recorded. The Muskies emerged on the long end of a 64-54 score.

Findlay was entirely too strong for Bluffton, which fell before the bucket brigade by a 35-20 count. Ohio Northern chalked up an even more convincing victory by taking Denison into camp, 45-28.

SHAUGHNESSY HAPPY

CHICAGO, Jan. 12—"I'm highly flattered to be given the opportunity to coach at such a great institution," declared Clark Shaughnessy today after he had been formally notified of his appointment as head football coach at Stanford University. "I'm particularly glad to be able to continue in intercollegiate football," the happy mentor added.

Coach Roy Black gave his charges an evening's rest Thursday, sending them home without a practice session.

Next Tuesday the Red and Black crew will go to Clarksburg to meet Bob Terhune's strong Ross County League leaders. With tall Joe Ater and several other outstanding performers Terhune has put together a fast and aggressive combination.

The Tigers will play Hilliards, coached by Earl Fahrenholz, ex-Amanda mentor, next Friday evening on the local court. Hilliards has been advanced to class A competition because of its large enrollment.

League Lead At Stake
The South Central Ohio League lead will be at stake Friday evening when Greenfield and Hillsboro tangle on the Hillsboro court. Neither has lost a game in league competition this year.

Washington C. H. goes to London, Friday, and Saturday evening takes on Grandview.

Two Pickaway County teams will engage in non-league competition Friday evening, Scioto playing host to Pete Trego's Grove City combination, and Washington traveling to Columbus to play the Ohio Deaf team.

SPORTSMAN'S ASSOCIATION

ELECTS DONALD COURTRIGHT AS PRESIDENT

ASHVILLE MAN ASSUMES POST WEDNESDAY EVE

F. K. Blair, Robert Rader And George Gerhardt Named To Offices

45 MEN AT GATHERING

John D. Hummel To Attend State Meet To Discuss Fishing Regulations

The Pickaway County Farmer's and Sportsman's Association elected and installed a new slate of officers at its meeting Thursday evening in the B. P. O. Elks Home.

The new officers are Donald Courtright, Ashville, president; F. K. Blair, vice president; Robert Rader, treasurer, and George Gerhardt, secretary, the last three of Circleville.

The former officers were B. S. Miller, South Bloomfield, president; George LeMay, Williamsport, vice president; Roy Beatty, Circleville, treasurer, and Harry Bartholomew, Circleville, secretary.

Hummel Namel Delegate

John D. Hummel was elected as a delegate to the hearing in the conservation department on January 31 on the fishing regulations for this year.

The four new officers and Mr. Hummel were appointed delegates to the League of Ohio Sportsmen to be held in Columbus January 20-22.

The county organization opposes any changes in the present fishing laws and those on the taking of bait. Members are against a spring closed season on all fish.

To Remove Pens

Plans were discussed to move the pheasant pens from the B. S. Millar farm near South Bloomfield to a new location. The new location has not been determined.

About 45 members attended the meeting.

DERBY

By Mrs. M. C. Edwards

Don't forget the farmers' institute here January 15 and 16. Three sessions each day.

The Ladies' Aid is postponed from Thursday, January 18 to January 25 owing to institute next week. Place will be announced later.

The W. H. M. S. met Thursday of last week with Mrs. Belle Blaine and daughter, Maude.

The Derby W. C. T. U. met Tuesday with the wife of Rev. Wright. Meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Frances Winfough after which the leader, Mrs. Minnie Ridgway took charge. Scripture was read from the 119th psalm, which was followed by prayer by Rev. Wright. Quotations from the Bible were then read by Mrs. Esther Shipley. These quotations were to show the liquor interests that the Bible does condemn liquor and its use. Mrs. Wright then read a paper on "The Book." The thought of this paper was an answer to so many questions as to what are the best books for the young people. When all is summed up no other compares with the Bible. There we find spiritual food, wisdom, psychiatry, romance, great literary gems and really anything of worth. Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Eaken then read quotations from the Bible on the subject of prayer. An interesting paper was then read by Mrs. Frances Winfough. The meeting was then turned over to the president, who conducted the business session. It was decided to serve lunch at the school on January 30 to raise funds for the 1940 budget. Meeting then closed by unison benediction. After which the hostess, Mrs. Wright, assisted by Mrs. Elina Eaken served refreshments. The February meeting will be with Mrs. Mabel Hill of Harrisburg.

The chief executive added that Burton's report would be studied thoroughly by Sherwood before any action would be taken.

Russians aim their drive at Finland's "waistline," says a news dispatch. Sounds like Stalin—hitting below the belt.

Bricker Puts Cleveland Relief Up to Sherwood

COLUMBUS, Jan. 12—Governor Bricker today turned over to Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood the task of finding possible new sources of revenue that would bring the City of Cleveland an additional $1,500,000—the amount officials of the Lake Erie metropolis expect they will need to offset an anticipated deficit in their 1940 relief budget.

At a conference with the governor yesterday, Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland disclosed that the city's relief needs this year would be $6,500,000, approximately $300,000 less than the amount spent in 1939.

Despite the anticipated shortage in the relief fund, Mayor Burton expressed confidence, that his city would be in "much better shape" during the current year than it had been in 1939. He indicated that increased industrial production and WPA activity probably would take hundreds off the relief rolls.

In his report to Bricker, Burton pointed out that last year the city's relief expenditures totaled $8,196,274, including unpaid bills from the previous year. Actual relief payments, he said, were $6,855,909.

The mayor added that the estimated relief needs for this year totaled $6,500,000, plus unpaid bills totaling $572,043, making a total of $7,072,043.

Burton, in explaining the expected deficit, pointed out that experts had figured that total revenue for relief purposes would not be more than $5,072,043 in 1940. He said that included the $2,795,000 the city expected to obtain from the state.

The Cleveland mayor said he and the governor did not discuss the question of calling a special session on relief this year.

"I didn't ask the governor for a special session," Burton declared. "I never have. I don't care whether we get the money with or without a special session. If he can do it without one, that's swell. All we want is the money."

Bricker later told newspapermen that he expected conditions in Cleveland to improve this year. He said that approximately 4000 had been added to W. P. A. roles recently.

The chief executive added that Burton's report would be studied thoroughly by Sherwood before any action would be taken.

LONNIE KEATON SENT TO JAIL FOR COAL THEFT

Lonnie Keaton, Weldon Avenue, was sent to the county jail Thursday afternoon when he failed to pay a fine of $25 and costs assessed by B. T. Hedges, justice of peace, on a charge of stealing coal from the Norfolk & Western Railroad.

Keaton was charged with the theft of a ton of coal valued at $5. The charge was filed by George W. Stiff, railroad detective. Keaton pleaded guilty to the charge.

SALT CREEK SCHOOL NEWS

Reading Circle books for the first eight grades have recently been purchased. A set of twenty-five books of the Modern Wonder Book Series has been placed in each of the three lower rooms. If we can develop a reading habit among the children, we have provided a wholesome use of leisure time. There will be some new books added to the school library soon.

A schedule of mid-term tests will be observed throughout the entire upper six grades, beginning Tuesday, January 9 and extending through Friday, January 12.

Saltcreek School wishes well the two junior boys, Hugh Clark, Jr. and Robert Ebert, who have discontinued school to take up farming, and the Lutz twins, who have entered on matrimonial careers.

The Saltcreek Board of Education met Monday night, January 1, and reorganized for the new year. The officers are: J. L. Reichelderfer, president; C. D. Rector, vice president; and L. N. Spancer, secretary. The two new members are Russell Anderson and Roy Fraunfelder. The retiring members are C. H. Armstrong and Lowell Poling.

Two hundred yards of fine gravel have been placed on the driveways and parking lots of the school grounds by the Pritchard Trucking Company of Adelphi.

A much more uniform temperature is being maintained throughout the building since the installation of the new ventilating system.

Fourth grade is studying Eskimo Life. We are using pictures from our study in our room decorations. In art class we have enjoyed making different kinds of snow men for our blackboard border.

Those people who received perfect spelling grades for last month were: Lois Defenbaugh, Francis Fogler, Evelyn Fogler, Fern Imbler, Kathryn Spencer, Phyllis Anderson, Mary Woodward, Leslie Hawkes, Matelent Ebert, Billy Lutz, and Saphronia Graham. We are taking turns in keeping a weather chart for this month. So far, we have recorded many zero markings.

FAIRFIELD MAN FACES PRISON

Jury Finds Pickerington Power Plant Foreman Guilty Of Murder

LANCASTER, Jan. 12—A sentence of life imprisonment today faced Fred C. Moore, 57-year-old power plant foreman of nearby Pickerington, found guilty by a Fairfield County jury of the murder of his 52-year-old wife, Bertha. The jury recommended mercy, saving Moore from the electric chair.

The ten men and two women decided that it was Moore who last May shot and garroted Mrs. Moore, and stuffed her body in a bedroom closet of their home under a pile of bedclothing.

Moore was apprehended three days later at Massillon, a 38-caliber revolver beside him on the seat of his car. He denied all knowledge of the crime, and told authorities he was visiting relatives in Kenton or Canton on the date of his wife's murder.

The jury returned its verdict after two hours deliberation. The foreman said only one ballot was taken.

Moore accepted his fate calmly, but refused to talk to newsmen as he was led from the room. Com-
